

Careers at SVCS.

'Careers in...'	Modern Foreign Languages
-----------------	--------------------------

Learning a foreign language helps create opportunities in many careers, specifically:

- Aid worker
- Air traffic controller
- Airline pilot
- Bilingual secretary
- British Sign Language interpreter
- Broadcast journalist
- Cabin crew
- Civil Service administrative officer
- English as a foreign language (EFL) teacher
- Events manager
- Hotel manager
- Immigration officer
- Primary school teacher
- Public relations officer
- RAF officer
- Secondary school teacher
- Tour manager
- Tourist guide
- Translator
- Transport planner

Benefits of studying a foreign language

Foreign languages are one of the 'facilitating subjects', highly regarded by many universities and helpful in all career areas e.g. mechanic, beautician, marine biologist.

Studying a foreign language can seem like a daunting process, but studying a European or other foreign language will be of great value when it comes to your employability.

Languages are vital if you think you would like to live and work abroad.

They are particularly useful in international aid, the Armed Forces, the security services, politics, law, business and working as an interpreter or translator.

They can also help protect against age-related mental impairment in future. Because of the ability of languages to boost brain function, taking a language during your all-important GCSE years can be good news for your overall academic performance.

For further information on careers in Modern Foreign Languages, click here:

Jobs that use Modern Languages - Careers - BBC Bitesize

Careerpilot : Jobs by subject

<https://youtu.be/DdaZ7cfZtY4?feature=shared>

HOW LANGUAGES HELP IN YOUR CAREER

creative multilingualism

Arts and Humanities
Research Council

Why YOU Should Learn a Language - video

4 Minutes: Why To Learn a Language

